2010 AM/FM RDS Tuner

Drawing on over twenty-five years of expertise, Exposure Electronics continues to develop products of the highest quality for the discerning audiophile. Exposure's 2010 Tuner is designed to offer the very best radio performance.

Housed in a rigid, all-aluminium chassis, with extruded aluminium front panel, the styling is contemporary yet understated. Matching the 2010 CD Player and completing the 2010 system line up, yet equally at home in any system, the 2010 tuner is a delight to behold.

Exposure's unique understanding of power supply performance is incorporated in the design. With bespoke reservoir capacitors, the power supply feeds the isolated main tuner board, offering a clean distortion free signal.

High performance Burr Brown operational amplifiers are utilised in the audio output stage, again confirming Exposure's commitment to quality and performance. High sensitivity with exceptional low level detail offers first class performance in areas of lower signal strength.

Live broadcasts are reproduced with a great sense of ambience and detail, whilst vocal reproduction is of outstanding, capturing the essence of any performance. The 2010 Tuner offers the perfect insight into the great number of varied broadcasts that are available today.
